“Since this is a business I have started with my teenage daughter, we are committed to making sure that we will offer something for everyone at every age level, and most importantly, that we work with our local community to help promote business and artisans in our city. After seeing how much the community enjoyed the Fall Market, we can’t wait to bring on the winter. We want this market to be a place for people to get out, socialize and feel a connection with the vendors, other shoppers, and our community as a whole”, says Christine Fowler, owner of Pieces and Peaches Boutique. “Additionally, by being highly selective in our vendor selection, we wanted to ensure we offered a variety of high quality, unique merchandise and services that appeals to all age groups.”
